Do dated 11.1.24

From The Registrar, Chief Court.

Subject Mai on the 25th Feby 1924 all the Civil & Criminal Courts in Bangalore city may be closed to enable the Advocates to attend the polling stations & give their votes.

1) There are 331 electors for the whole Constituency of whom 141 practising advocates are in Bangalore. ~~The~~ division is the civil ~~of Bangalore~~, Kolar Bowring included. Then may be some more who are in the service of Govt.

2) According to the rules framed for the Constituency There is no work of any kind to be done at the polling booths on the day as the voting papers are sent to electors before hand (vide Rule 10). There is further the option given to them only to record either in person or by post. The voting papers are not required to be given to each elector as he comes to the booth as in the case of general Constituencies. So whole Thing can perhaps be done quite leisurely & in a very short time.

I do not think that there is a licensing for any such holiday - there are only two vakeels practising in the Bench Court and they will not have work all the day from 11 to 5 P.M. They can without any detriment to their work close their Court and may be very busy during the remaining hours of the day in preparing for cases for the Civil Court. If there may not be any hearing of the Civil Court it would be necessary that the Registrar of the Civil Court should be present there the whole of the day in order to receive any petitions that may be presented. It would have been nice to make the Saturday a holiday but as the Civil Court have made it optional I do not like to oppose it. If the Civil Courts may be declared a holiday for all the Civil & Criminal Courts.
